

Since 2012, The Health Resources and Service Administration (HRSA) in its Uniform Data System (UDS) provide the following directions and definitions for completing Table 4 (Selected Patient Characteristics including Targeted Special Populations designation, such as Migratory and Seasonal Agricultural Workers) lines 14, 15 and 16. In the box below please find these directions and definitions quoted from the HRSA 2015 UDS Manual – December 1, 2012 - Version 1.1 Page 31-32. Also included is the Public Section 330 definition of Agriculture extracted from the Bureau of Primary Health Care webpage. <http://bphc.hrsa.gov/policiesregulations/legislation/index.htm>

MIGRATORY OR SEASONAL AGRICULTURAL WORKERS AND THEIR FAMILY MEMBERS, LINES 14–16

“All health centers are required to report either on Line 16 or on lines 14 and 15 the number of patients seen during the reporting period who were either migratory or seasonal agricultural workers or their family members, or other individuals described in the statute at Section 330(g)(1)(B). (See definitions below.) Only Section 330(g) Migrant Health Center grantees provide separate totals for migratory and for seasonal agricultural workers on Lines 14 and 15. For Section 330(g) grantees, Lines 14 + 15 = Line 16”

DEFINITIONS OF MIGRATORY AND SEASONAL AGRICULTURAL WORKERS.
MIGRATORY AGRICULTURAL WORKERS –

“Defined by section 330(g) of the Public Health Service Act, a migratory agricultural worker is an individual whose principal employment is in agriculture and who establishes a temporary home for the purposes of such employment. Migratory agricultural workers are usually hired laborers who are paid piecework, hourly, or daily wages. The definition includes those individuals who have had such work as their principal employment within 24 months of their last visit as well as their dependent family members who have also used the center. The family members may or may not move with the worker or establish a temporary home. Note that agricultural workers who leave a community to work elsewhere are classified as migratory workers in their home community as are those who migrate to a community to work there”.

AGED AND DISABLED FORMER AGRICULTURAL WORKERS: As defined in Section 330 (g)(1)(B), aged and disabled former agricultural workers are individuals who have previously been migratory agricultural workers but who no longer work in agriculture because of age or disability. These individuals and family members of such individuals are included in Line 14.

SEASONAL AGRICULTURAL WORKERS: Seasonal agricultural workers are individuals whose principal employment is in agriculture on a seasonal basis ((e.g. picking fruit during the limited months of a picking season) but who do not establish a temporary home for purposes of employment. Seasonal agricultural workers are usually hired laborers who are paid piecework, hourly, or daily wages. The definition includes those individuals who have been so employed within 24 months of their last visit and their family members who may be patients of the health center.

“For both categories of workers, the term agriculture means farming in all its branches, as defined by the OMB-developed North America Industry Classification System \(NAICS\) 2012, and includes seasonal workers included in the following codes and all sub-codes within: 111, 112, 1151, and 1152”.

DEFINITION OF AGRICULTURE- The term "agriculture" means farming in all its branches, including--

- (i) cultivation and tillage of the soil;
- (ii) the production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of any commodity grown on, in, or as an adjunct to or part of a commodity grown in or on, the land; and
- (iii) any practice (including preparation and processing for market and delivery to storage or to market or to carriers for transportation to market) performed by a farmer or on a farm incident to or in conjunction with an activity described in clause (ii).

Below is the list of the North American Industry Classification System (NAICS) Codes developed by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and used in the UDS Manual to define Agriculture. The three digit codes 111 and 112 refer to the broad agricultural industries of Crop Production and Animal Production and Aquaculture respectively. Within each of these codes are several sub codes for each subsector of that agricultural industry. Codes 1115 and 1152 refer to the Support Activities for Crop Production and for Animal Production respectively. Workers employed in any of these sectors/subsectors that meet the migratory or seasonal farmworker definition requirements are eligible for Migrant Health Services and can be counted in the UDS.

Note: Please remember that for the UDS, aged or disabled former migratory workers are counted as migratory workers.

111 Crop Production. “Industries in the Crop Production subsector grow crops mainly for food and fiber. The subsector comprises establishments, such as farms, orchards, groves, greenhouses, and nurseries, primarily engaged in growing crops, plants, vines, or trees and their seeds”.

112 Animal Production and Aquaculture. “Industries in the Animal Production and Aquaculture subsector raise or fatten animals for the sale of animals or animal products and/or raise aquatic plants and animals in controlled or selected aquatic environments for the sale of aquatic plants, animals, or their products. The subsector includes establishments, such as ranches, farms, and feedlots primarily engaged in keeping, grazing, breeding, or feeding animals. These animals are kept for the products they produce or for eventual sale. The animals are generally raised in various environments, from total confinement or captivity to feeding on an open range pasture”.

Please note that for the purpose of determining eligibility for the Migrant Health Program, people working in Forestry and Logging code 113 (except those working on short production cycles, such as Christmas tree production) and Fishing, Hunting and Trapping code 114 and Seafood Product Preparation and Packaging code 311 are not eligible. Please refer to the box below for additional information about those industries.

113 Forestry and Logging “Industries in the Forestry and Logging subsector grow and harvest timber on a long production cycle (i.e., of 10 years or more). Long production cycles use different production processes than short production cycles, which require more horticultural interventions prior to harvest, resulting in processes more similar to those found in the Crop Production subsector. Consequently, Christmas tree production and other production involving production cycles of less than 10 years, are classified in the Crop Production subsector.

Industries in this subsector specialize in different stages of the production cycle. Reforestation requires production of seedlings in specialized nurseries. Timber production requires natural forest or suitable areas of land that are available for a long duration. The maturation time for timber depends upon the species of tree, the climatic conditions of the region, and the intended purpose of the timber. The harvesting of timber (except when done on an extremely small scale) requires specialized machinery unique to the industry. Establishments gathering forest products, such as gums, barks, balsam needles, rhizomes, fibers, Spanish moss, and ginseng and truffles, are also included in this subsector”.

114 Fishing, Hunting and Trapping “Industries in the Fishing, Hunting and Trapping subsector harvest fish and other wild animals from their natural habitats and are dependent upon a continued supply of the natural resource. The harvesting of fish is the predominant economic activity of this subsector and it usually requires specialized vessels that, by the nature of their size, configuration and equipment, are not suitable for any other type of production, such as transportation.

Hunting and trapping activities utilize a wide variety of production processes and are classified in the same subsector as fishing because the availability of resources and the constraints imposed, such as conservation requirements and proper habitat maintenance, are similar”.

311710 Seafood Product Preparation and Packaging. “This industry comprises establishments primarily engaged in one or more of the following: (1) canning seafood (including soup); (2) smoking, salting, and drying seafood; (3) eviscerating fresh fish by removing heads, fins, scales, bones, and entrails; (4) shucking and packing fresh shellfish; (5) processing marine fats and oils; and (6) freezing seafood. Establishments known as "floating factory ships" that are engaged in the gathering and processing of seafood into canned seafood products are included in this industry.

NCFH encourages health centers to remember that to be documented as an agricultural worker, patients must have been engaged in qualified agricultural work within the previous 24 months , and that depending in job availability, farmworkers often move across agricultural subsectors an in and out of agriculture, but still consider themselves to be primarily agricultural workers. Because farmworker eligibility is complicated for both health center customers and staff, a well-designed verification process is needed. Health centers can benefit from revising their current eligibility policies, procedures and forms to align those with health information systems to better capture needed information to complete their UDS reports.
